DEATH CLAIMS DOWIE.

Founder of Zionists and First Apostle No More.

DIES WHILE DENOUNCING.

In His Last Moments the Strength of
Other Days Appeared to Have Come Back and He Scored Those Whom He Clashed With.

Chicago, March 9.—At Shiloh house, Zion City, John Alexander Dowie died at 7:40 o'clock this morning.

With Dowie when he passed away were only Judge D. N. Barnes and two personal attendants.

It has been the custom to hold religious services every Sunday afternoon in the parlor of Shiloh house. About 350 of Dowie's original followers remained faithful and attended these services. Dowie always wore his apostolic robes and made a characteristic address. Five weeks ago these meetings ceased and Dowie appeared no longer in public. Sunday meetings, however, were still held by his adherents. Since that time Dowie had been gradually failing. Friday afternoon there were indications of his approaching death. He received a few followers and prayed for some people. His condition seemed to be about the same as for the last two or three weeks. One of his attendants remained with him until midnight and was relieved by the other attendant. Shortly before 1 o'clock Saturday morning Dowie became delirious and talked the same as at religious meetings in the days of his prime. He denounced people with his old-time vigor, ordered guards to throw out disturbers and acted just as he had on so many previous occasions. He gradually became weaker and the attendant telephoned for Judge Barnes, who reached Shiloh house at 7 o'clock. Forty minutes later Dowie died.

When Dowie died his wife and son were at Ben McDhu, Mich.

Judge Barnes is a member of Voliva's council, but remained friendly to Dowie, believing him insane and not responsible for his actions. Dowie's wife, father and son held the same views.

Eighteen months ago Dowie began the promotion of a second Zion City in Mexico. While engaged in this undertaking his health failed and he went to Jamaica shortly before Christmas, 1905, for his health. While there he suffered a stroke of paralysis, from which he never fully recovered. It was at this time he appointed Wilbur Glenn Voliva first lieutenant and general overseer of the church. A month after Voliva took charge in Zion City he, by power of attorney vested in him by Dowie, had all the property belonging to the church transferred from Dowie to Overseer Granger, charging extravagance and gross mismanagement by Dowie. At the time the transfer was made Voliva called all Zionists to the tabernacle in Zion City and denounced Dowie. With the exception of less than 200 of his followers all the inhabitants of Zion City chose Voliva as their future leader and word was sent to Dowie in Mexico that he had been deposed. He immediately started for Chicago and took the controversy to the courts for settlement.

FOUGHT ON STREAM.

Desperate Conflict, in Which an Oar, Pistols and Knives Figured.

Georgetown, Ky., March 9.—Thacker Rice and Speed and Elijah Bailey, two brothers, were killed in a desperate fight in a boat while crossing Middle Fork of the Kentucky river, twenty miles below here. With them were John Ellsmore. A dispute arose between Ellsmore and Rice, whereupon the Zalley brothers took sides with Rice. Ellsmore whacked Rice on the head with an oar and then a battle with pistols and knives followed. Ellsmore, himself badly wounded, finally reached the shore with his companions, but they died soon after. The fight followed a celebration at a neighbor's home.

Serious Fire Loss at Emory.

Greenville, Tex., March 9.—A fire at Emory, Rains county, destroyed the postoffice, telephone exchange, Crabb's building and York's store. The total losses are $10,000, with little insurance. It is believed to have been of incendiary origin.

INSURANCE RESERVE.

Senate Committee Heard Arguments
For and Against Measure.

Austin, March 9.—The senate committee on insurance matters considered Representative Robertson's insurance reserve bill. Norris Lyman Cox of New York, a former member of the Armstrong committee, appeared before the committee in opposition to the measure. He contended that the measure is unfair, as it requires companies to deposit 75 per cent of their reserve fund in the state treasury, and that it would be disastrous to have companies tie money up in that way. John Henry Kirby of Houston appeared before the committee in favor of the bill.

EX-RANGER WRATHY.

McDonald Indignant at Being Referred to as a "Contemptible Coward."

Austin, March 9.—Captain W. J. McDonald, former state ranger, now state revenue agent, was somewhat wrothy when he read in a newspaper that Major Penrose had referred to him as a "contemptible coward." He says that Penrose is angry before he (McDonald) had told Penrose he thought more of the negro soldiers than he did of their commander. Captain McDonald is preparing a statement on the subject, in which he goes into details of the whole affair.

Ice and Cold Storage Company.

Austin, March 9.—Central Ice and Cold Storage company of Dallas, capital stock $100,000, filed its charter.

No Session Saturday.

Austin, March 9.—Neither house of the legislature was in session Saturday.

WITHIN EIGHT YEARS.

Harrod of Opinion Canal Will Be Completed In That Time.

New Orleans, March 9.—Major R. M. Harrod, a member of the Panama canal commission, has returned home. He said the work on the waterway has progressed far enough to warrant the assurance that the canal will be completed within eight years from now. He added that, in his opinion, the total expense of completing the work will come within the original estimate, especially so since the work, that had been estimated to cost 80 cents per cubic yard, is being done for 56 cents. Mr. Harrod said he knew nothing of the reported intention of the president to reorganize the commission.

SOCIAL and Club Matters

Members of the Baraca Class of the Sunday school of the First Baptist church
held social session at the offices of Mr.
T. R. Batte, teacher of the class, on Thursday evening. Mr. W. H. Bell, class president, gave attention to the arrangements, omitting no detail that would contribute to the pleasure of the evening. A Mexican band supplied music. Members of the Philathea class decorated the rooms and table in an attractive way. An elegant luncheon of fruits, cake and chocolate was served. Mr. T. R. Batte acted as toastmaster and excellent talks on appropriate subjects were made. The toast list was as follows: "Baraca," A. W.
Buchanan; "Philathea," J. M. Hare; "The Young Man," Rev. Jas. A. Challenor;
"The Young Woman," H. O. Jones;
"Sociability," C. E. Bullock; "Co-operation," W. H. Meyerlambert of Navasota.
A. W. Buchanan, T. R. Batte and Dr. J.
F. Eaves were appointed a committee to invite Judge J. C. Scott to address the class
Thursday evening.

A special program in celebration of Texas Independence Day was carried out at the Wednesday afternoon meeting of the Mutual Improvement Club, and is said to have been one of the most interesting meetings in the history of this club
which has been notable for its successes.
Roll call was answered by original toasts to "Texas Heroes," and these proved to be very bright and appropriate to the patriotic occasion. Mrs. Albert Buchanan read a splendid paper on the development of Texas along educational and commercial lines. The paper was notable for its literary excellence as well as for its instructive value.

The next feature of the program, and one of the most interesting, was a discussion of which the two institutions, the Agricultural and Mechanical College and the College of Industrial Arts at Denton, will prove of the greatest benefit to Texas.
This discussion brought out many good arguments, and was greatly enjoyed by the ladies. The exercises closed with the singing of "America."

Miss Maggie McDougald, sponsor of Company "D," A. and M. corps of cadets, entertained with a skating party at the Bryan Roller Rink Friday evening complimentary to the officers and members of the company, all of whom were present, together with a large number of young ladies and several married couples. The exclusive privilege of the rink was secured from 10 to 12, and the 125 or more people present thoroughly enjoyed the evening. Pretty red and white programs were provided. Capt. Wessendorf led the grand march with Miss Bessie Lee Williamson of Brenham, the guest of Miss McDougald. Later in the evening Mr.
Will Stewart led a pretty cotillion with Miss Hettie Smith. During intermission
red and white brick ice cream and cake
were served.

A number of the young men of the A.
& M. College have organized the Sequoyah
Dancing Club with the following officers:
Joe Utay, president; T. J. Beasley, vice president; G. F. Moore, secretary-treasurer. The initial dance of the club was given last night at the Shirley and attended by a number of Bryan and College young ladies. The affair was notably pleasant and successful. The arrangement committee was composed of Messrs. R. Croos,
G. F. Moore and G. T. Brundrett, while Messrs. George Marlowe, P. W. McGhee
and J. K. Ross comprised the floor committee.

The Ladies' Choral Club held a well attended and enthusiastic meeting yesterday afternoon, and put in some hard work at practice. Prof. Lellebridge is immensely pleased with the progress the ladies are making. He says the chorus is fine and the interest could hardly be better. Several new members have been received recently,
among them Mesdames J. A. McQueen,
M. Francis, Nellie Ballard, George Smith,
Misses Hettie Smith, Gussie Buchanan, Nellie Rohde and Miss Kilough. The membership is now between twenty and twenty-five.

Miss Nellie Batte entertained the Embroidery Club on Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Miss Batte proved a charming hostess, dispensing cordial hospitality and making her guests feel welcome and at home. Beautiful cut flowers here and there contributed to the charm of the surroundings, lending color and fragrance to the already attractive ensemble. Mrs.
Batte assisted the hostess during the afternoon. Dainty and appetizing refreshments were served.

The Bryan Roller Rink management
kindly donated twenty per cent of the receipts Friday night up to ten o'clock to the fund for the Annual to be published by young ladies of the Texas Woman's BITTERLY DENOUNCED.

Some Managers Labeled "Slave Drivers
and Inhuman Money Grabbers."

Chicago, March 9.—"The Injunction.
'Remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy,' is almost an unknown commandment in Chicago. Sunday is a day of riot and law violation. The open theater engenders an air of looseness and hilarity that is greatly responsible for that fact."

In this vein Rev. William White Wilson, pastor of St. Mark's Episcopal church and president of the Actors' Church alliance, arraigned the "lid off" policy prevalent in Chicago nowadays, and declared for a closed theater on Sunday. He bitterly denounced managers of the Chicago theaters who oppose closing on Sunday as
"slave drivers and inhuman money grabbers."

Rev. Dr. Wilson presided and made the opening speech at the meeting of the alliance.

The meeting was well attended by representatives of the stage and pulpit. The Sunday closing question was put to a vote. It was unanimous in favor of the closed theater on Sunday.
Dr. Wilson announced that a great mass-meeting will be called in the near future to make a public demand for Sunday closing of the playhouses.

JUDGE SCORES JURY.

Less Crime in England and Ireland
Than in Jefferson County.

Birmingham, March 9.—Because they had acquitted Thomas Shelton, a white man, of the murder of Ora Dunn,
a white woman, in a house in the "Red Light" district, Criminal Judge S. L.
Weaver delivered a stinging rebuke to the members of the jury after the verdict had been announced.

He said that statistics showed that less crime was committed in England and Ireland than in Jefferson county, Alabama. He continued: "Under the circumstances in this case, my love for my country forbids me from remaining silent any longer. It was the province of this jury to free the defendant. It may be that he will get full of cheap liquor again and go over to the "Red Light" district and kill another poor unfortunate woman, or he may join those who are advocating the wiping out of that district. Who knows?"

Shelton's defense was that his pistol dropped from his pocket and shot the woman accidentally. He was arrested in Indian Territory and brought back here.

Washington, March 9.—Archie
Roosevelt was better Saturday.

WATER SITUATION.

The north well at the water plant was repaired Friday night and the water supply was normal again yesterday. The new middle well is now down to a depth of 140 feet, and it is expected it will be completed by next Saturday night.

The new 125 horse power boiler
is now in service and Manager Preston is confident that he has plenty of power.

NEWS OF THE LABOR WORLD

Stamford, Conn.—The common council has passed and the mayor has signed a resolution requiring all city printing to bear the label.

New York.—The proposition for a 15 cent per capita, an increase of three per cent over the present rate, has been carried by the United Garment Workers of America.

El Paso.—The strike of machinists in the shops of the Mexican Central railway at Nuevo Laredo, Mexico, and the strike of cotton mill workers at Queretaro have been settled.

Baltimore.—The workmen in the street railway power house here went on strike, tying up all the lines, as a protest against the profanity of experts from New York who are putting up machinery.

Cleveland, Ohio.—Machinists are having good success in their organization campaign. They report having gained over 100 new members in January. The enthusiasm among the machinists is at a high pitch.

Boston.—Thomas H. Canning, national secretary-treasurer of the Knights of Labor, incorporated, at several local assembly meetings urged the officers and members to endeavor to form K. of L. assemblies of every building trade of the city, and promised the national support in the effort.

Madison, Wis.—Carpenters and painters have won their fight for an eight hour day, and will receive the same pay as under the old nine hour schedule. The new schedule of working hours for the carpenters, who are doing outside work, will go into effect May 1 and for the painters June 1. To these classes of labor it means an hour shorter day and an increase in wages of about ten per cent.

St. Louis.—All conductors, trainmen and yardmen of the Southern railway are to receive an increase in wages aggregating between $350,000 and $400,000 a year. The advance affects hundreds of men. No flat percentage of increase is given to any class of employees, the increase in every case being dependent entirely on conditions. The increase amounts, however, from six per cent, as the minimum to 25 per cent, as the maximum.

Chicago.—In consideration of an increase in wages amounting to $1,000,000 annually, the telegraphers' union practically abandoned the preparations for a strike of 15,000 operators of the Western Union company, which threatened to stop telegraphic communication from one end of the country to the other. President R. C. Clowry, in a telegram to General Superintendent Cook of the Chicago office, authorized a 10 per cent. advance in the operators' pay, to take effect March 1. Altogether, employees in 16 cities were affected by the company's order.

Chicago.—A. B. Garretson, grand chief of the Order of Railway Conductors, who had charge of the negotiations for the conductors, is an old-timer in the organization. He was born in Iowa in 1856, and has been a grand officer of the organization for the last 20 years. He started railroad work as a brakeman on the Burlington road when 19 years of age, and was a conductor on the "Katy" road when first elected to office. He was assistant grand chief for 17 years, and when E. E. Clark was appointed a member of the interstate commerce commission and resigned as chief of the order Garretson stepped into the chief office.

Butte, Mont.—The Retail Clerks' Union is moving to have all stores close by 6 p. m. Over 500 members were present at the last meeting, and a vote being taken the local decided to push the matter to a finality. It is understood that many of the proprietors are not averse to the innovation.

Chicago.—Demands for an increase in wages will be made by the electrical workers' union at the expiration of their working agreements with the electrical contractors of the city on May 1. The present scale is $2.80 for a day of ten hours. It is expected that a demand for $3 a day will be made, and contracts on that basis have already been entered into with the Independent Telephone company.

Bloomington, Ill.—About 100 boiler-makers employed in the shops of the Alton road went on a strike following a refusal by the company to increase their wages. Officials of the company held a conference and afterward stated that they were considering the advisability of closing the shops. This would throw more than 800 men out of employment. The boiler-makers want an increase of from 2 to 3 cents per hour.

Pittsburg, Pa.—William J. Smith, for years president of the American Flint Glass Workers' Union, died suddenly here. Mr. Smith was widely known in Canada as well as in the United States.

Cleveland, Ohio.—Business Agent Fred Zepp, of the brewery workers, has been notified by international officials that an agreement has been reached with the Coopers' International Union which will prevent jurisdictional controversies in the future. These disputes have been a source of great trouble and expense for a number of years.

Boston.—New England convention of sheet metal workers' union elected Geo. Bradford of Hartford president, Louis Thorpe of Providence vice president, John F. Kennedy of Boston secretary and treasurer, William F. Burnham of Waterbury and Charles Jewell of Stamford trustees, Joseph Rogers of Providence, William de Wolfe of New Haven and William Walters of Quincy executive board.

Memphis, Tenn.—The biennial convention of the Order of Railroad Conductors will be held here beginning May 14, and Mr. Garretson will be elected with little or no opposition. He has had no opposition for the office of assistant for the last seven years, but for head of the organization there are always a few candidates. He is popular with the conductors throughout the country and especially in the west.

Washington.—Chairman Payne of the house ways and means committee, after a visit to the president, expressed the opinion that there is no chance at this session of congress of the enactment of legislation increasing compensation of government employees as proposed in the bill now before congress. He declared there is no need of the blanket increase of salaries, and that as a rule, government employees were amply paid.

Chicago.—The Journeymen Stone Cutters' association has by a referendum vote decided to affiliate with the American Federation of Labor. A charter will be issued at the next meeting of the executive council. The stone cutters have in the past refrained from joining the family of trade unions in the American Federation of Labor, partly because of disputes on jurisdiction with the granite cutters, marble workers and others.

Chicago.—There is trouble in store at the post office unless the officials there prove equal to the occasion of treating with a union of women clerks organized in the post office during the postmaster's absence in Washington. Despite the commonly accepted opinion that a woman cannot keep a secret, the 100 girl employees in the post office successfully kept dark the fact that they had joined the ranks of organized labor. The women's union, which is the first of its kind among the public service employees in the country, has now become a full fledged labor organization. At a meeting of the regular post office clerks' union—composed heretofore exclusively of men—the girls were taken into membership.

New York.—To establish permanent peace between the employing printers of New York and their employees who are members of Typographical union No. 6, about 50 owners of New York printing establishments have adopted bylaws and part of a constitution. The new organization will be known as the Printers' League of America. Charles Francis, president, said that if its plans were carried out by the employers there will be no more strikes among printers in New York. Mr. Francis declared that in the last big strike, which began in January, 1906, $8,000,000 had been spent by employers and employees. In addition to its main object, of avoiding strikes by conciliation and arbitration, it is the intention of the Printers' league to discard individual labor contracts and instead introduce the system of collective labor contracts.

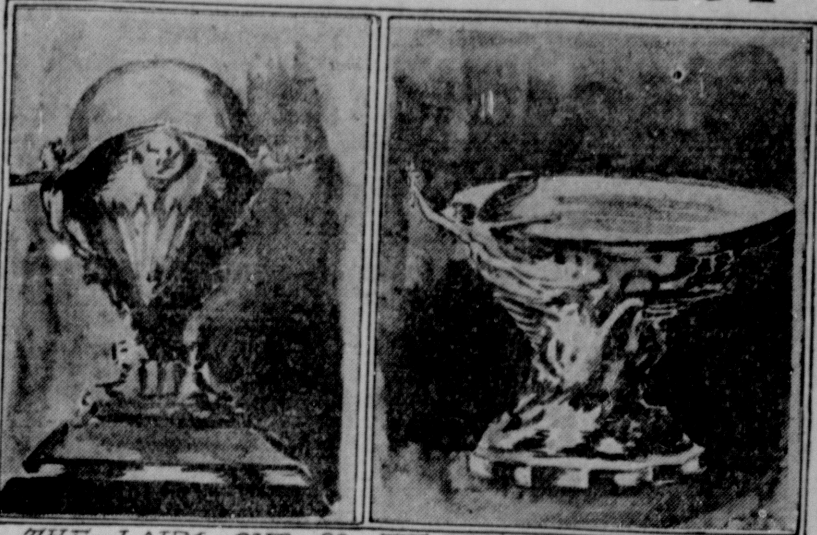

New York.—The officials of the old and new unions of plasterers, which have been engaged in a warfare for more than a year, have come to an agreement, and the fight, which resulted in many building strikes ended. The terms of settlement provide that the union is to form two locals with charters from the international union. There will thus be three locals of the one international union in New York city which will recognize one another's cards.

Washington.—Under the executive order issued by President Roosevelt some time ago the eight-hour law must be observed by contractors doing government work, whether being done by contract or day labor. When negotiating for the last wage agreement a year ago the dredgemen made a stand for an eight-hour day, but finally were forced to yield it in consideration for other concessions. C. E. Newell, of Buffalo, first vice president of the organization, will have charge of the negotiations for the dredgemen, and will be assisted by T. J. Dolan, of Chicago, secretary of the steam shovel men's international union.

Pittsburg, Pa.—The hodecarriers in this vicinity will ask for an increase of 2½ cents an hour, to take effect May 1. They are now receiving 35 cents an hour for an eight-hour day.

Boston.—Great activity is being displayed in an effort to absolutely unionize the Hebrew workers. Several unions in various crafts which had declined in membership and power have been revived, and great success is being achieved. The unions which have retained and represent a virtually complete organization of their lines are the most active in the work for the helping of the others.

INTERNATIONAL BALLOON CONTEST

THE LAHM CUP & THE INTERNATIONAL AERO-NAUTIC CUP

America is to witness the next great international balloon race, and St. Louis has been designated as the "flight" city by the Aero Club of America because of its central location, and also because it affords opportunity for records flights whatever the direction of the wind. The rare privilege of holding this airship contest in this country comes as a reward for the victory won by an American aeronaut, Lieut. Frank P. Lahm, in the international contest last year. His triumph is of such recent occurrence as to be still fresh in mind, and we recall with what pride American newspapers heralded the achievement.

Especially did the victory bring satisfaction and enthusiasm to the Aero Club of America for it claimed Lieut. Lahm as an honorary member and his triumph not only brought it prestige among the ballooning fraternity of Europe and brought to this side of the water the magnificent international challenge cup offered as a prize by James Gordon Bennett.

And now the Aero club is actively engaged in making arrangements for the contest this year at St. Louis. It is determined, and hopeful as well, of retaining the cup on this side of the Atlantic. Eight nations—France, Germany, Great Britain, Belgium, Switzerland, Italy, Spain and the United States—each with three balloons, are entitled to compete, and the contest will be in all respects international. It is estimated that the great European balloon contests of 1906 were each witnessed by 200,000 spectators, and it is hoped that this race of 1907 will command at least equal interest. It will require all the resources of the Aero Club of America and all the energies of its members to properly organize and conduct this contest. This will, of necessity, be its chief task for 1907 and to this all else must be subordinated.

It is hoped that the history of the America's cup will be repeated and that the international cup has crossed the ocean never to return. The club has been assured that three balloons of 2,200 meters, the maximum capacity permitted under the rules, will be available for its champions. There are already many applicants for the honor of being chosen as one of the three defenders of the cup, and it is certain that there will be a large field from which to make the selection.

The greatest interest has been displayed throughout the civilized world, and special facilities will be offered to all aeronauts visiting St. Louis for this contest. Through the liberality of various citizens and organizations of that city the Aero Club of America has been able to offer cash prizes amounting to $2,500, to be distributed among the contestants winning respectively second, third, fourth and fifth places. This is in addition to the sum of $2,500 to be given by Mr. Bennett to the winner of the cup. The Aero Club of America also offers a prize to the contestant remaining longest in the air.

As a further stimulus to ballooning, the Aero club has founded and offered for competition a challenge trophy to be known as the Lahm cup and to be held in turn by each of its members who exceeds the distance—402 miles—covered by Lieut. Lahm in winning the International cup.

The Aero club will endeavor to introduce and popularize in this country the various contests in connection with ballooning which have proved so attractive in France. These include the pursuit and capture by several balloons of a pilot balloon having a certain start; also a contest by several balloons, the winner to be the one who lands nearest to a given spot designated on a map beforehand. Prizes will also be given to automobiles which shall start in pursuit of balloons and reach them within a given interval after their launching.

The Aero Club of America is less than two years old, having been formed in the summer of 1905 with the purpose set forth in the constitution of promoting and developing the science of aerial navigation. Founded by men who had almost without exception never made an ascension in a free balloon, the club has in one year of existence earned for itself a position in the world of sport and it is to be hoped it has opened up a brilliant career for itself in the future.

Although the Aero club is the first organization of aeronauts to be formed on the American continent, it has had a number of precursors in Europe, where the science of aerial navigation has for many years received careful study.

When the Aero club of America organized its first exposition, in January, 1906, balloons were imported from Paris, and the public was given the opportunity of seeing what they were like. Photographs of balloon ascensions were displayed and an effort was made to arouse a popular interest in the sport as it is practiced abroad.

This show was followed by a number of actual ascents from different places in the eastern states, and thus people in one section of this country at least were given an opportunity to become familiar with aerial navigation in its simplest and safest form.

The home of the Aero club, the city of New York, is unfavorably situated as a ballooning center. The ocean, the one peril of the aeronauts, is close at hand, and only with a wind from a southerly direction is an ascent to be made with perfect safety. The gas question is also an important factor, and the Aero club has found at Pittsfield, Mass., a station combining the features—distance from the sea and an abundant supply of coal gas. The great drawback is its distance from New York and other centers of population.

The Aero club has acquired two balloons, one of them, the Centaur, having made the record balloon journey from Paris to Russia in 1900. These aerostats are available for ascensions by members and it is hoped that before long the club will be able to acquire new balloons.

It should be the province of the Aero Club of America to encourage all attempts at a solution of the flying problems, and it should investigate and report upon every invention or contrivance which seems to have a reasonable chance of success. A technical committee composed of experts and scientists, in whose names and reputations the public will have confidence, will be appointed. This committee will be authorized to solicit and receive subscriptions, to be spent judiciously and when there is a good chance for a profitable return. Only by lavish expenditure of money and my continued experiments can success in flying be achieved. In France all that has been accomplished in this direction has been largely done by the generosity of a few patrons of aeronautics. The most successful steerable balloons now owned by the French government are due to the Lebaudys, who spent large sums of money in experiments and whose wealth made possible their construction. The rich prizes offered by M. Deutsch de la Meurthe stimulated Santos-Dumont to achieve his notable flight around the Eiffel tower. M. Deutsch has built at his own expense a large airship which recently maneuvered near Paris and he has offered prizes of great value for aeroplanes.

Is there not in all this land of swollen fortunes some one who will offer a prize of sufficient size to reward the inventor and repay him for all the years he has to spend in unsuccessful effort? To England belongs the credit of having invented the steam railroad engine; to France belongs the honor of producing the automobile. Shall the United States of America allow themselves to be left behind in the race to bring forth a flying machine that will fly, and thus confer one of the greatest benefits on mankind?

A Goose 71 Years Old.
Among the interesting assets which Moran has to its credit is a goose which had reached the mature age of 71 years, says the Kansas City Journal.

This oldest inhabitant of the fowl tribe in Allen county is owned by James Strong. Mr. Strong has owned it for many years and is greatly attached to it, and does everything to make its latter days pleasant. There are, of course, reasons other than those of sentiment why this goose is safe from being served up as a table delicacy.

In 1871, when William Jones left Iowa for Kansas, a friend gave him a goose which was 35 years old at the time. It was regarded as a fairly venerable bird then, but it stood the hardship of pioneer life in Allen county with no complaint. When Newt Strong married a niece of Mr. Jones he gave them the goose. Later they moved to Iowa and left the goose with James Strong, who still has it.

People Talked About PROF. HOLDEN—"CORN WIZARD"

Perry G. Holden, of the Iowa Agricultural college, is the "corn wizard" of the world. He has added $15,000,000 a year to the wealth of the field and of the crop. He has made blades of corn grow where one grew before, following his teachings the farmers of Iowa increased their corn output by 50,000,000 bushels.

Though born in Minnesota, 41 years ago, Prof. Holden grew up on a 400-acre farm in zle county, Michigan. He attended the Michigan agricultural college and at 23 he was a professor of agronomy in that institution. He afterward went to Bloomington, Ill. While manager of a 25,000-acre farm there he began his experiments with corn. Several seasons' experience convinced him that the secret of big corn lay in the use of proper seed.

Before it is time to plant the corn Prof. Holden takes a kernel from the state annually and the Iowa farmers flock to it when it reaches their locality and listen to Holden's lectures.

Holden has taken hold of corn because it was the nearest thing to him and likewise the nearest to the American farmer, who is, in fact, the strongest and hope of the nation. He is using the bigger and better ear of corn as a lever with which to lift the farmer to a full realization of the place and power he holds. Better citizenship for the nation, founded on intelligent and prosperous farming communities is the true goal at which he aims.

Holden originated the "corn gospel" train. In this train he travels the state annually and the Iowa farmers flock to it when it reaches their locality and listen to Holden's lectures.

DARING YOUNG CHICAGO JURIST

McKenzie Cleland, a young Chicago lawyer, who was elected municipal court judge last fall, has shocked Chicago by his daring and originality. He began his duties by fining and sentencing to jail a number of saloon keepers for violations of the law. This startling procedure created a ripple of surprise—but little else. For Mayor Dunne promptly pardoned the liquor men. Judge Cleland then subpoenaed the mayor and certain aldermen for contempt of court. Prosecuting Attorney Alexander, whom he accused with the aldermen of influencing the mayor to pardon the offenders, he ordered from his court. It was shown that the mayor had the right to pardon, and the affair was settled, but not until Judge Cleland had clearly shown that the interference of political influence with the administration of justice in his court would not be tolerated.

Every two weeks a review of the ghetto's unfortunates is held in Judge Cleland's court. Those husbands and wives who take the pledge are allowed to go under suspended sentences and fines of $25 to $50 are remitted. Of 51 culprits at the last review only one failed to reform. He was sent to jail. Men and women wept as they listened to the judge's parting admonition to live in peace and sobriety. When the last fine had been remitted at the last lecture delivered, it was a happy crowd of husbands and wives and smiling children that fled out of the court room.

STRENUOUS FRENCH PREMIER

Clemenceau, the statesman and party chief, Clemenceau the orator and thinker, Clemenceau as guide for the most of the destinies of France, is well known now in America. But Clemenceau the man, as he lives in his rising up and lying down, is scarcely known to any one, whether in France or abroad.

Even in the midst of his intense activity, journalistic and political, when he was thundering for justice to Dreyfus, unmaking presidents and cabinets, he still managed to keep his private life a secret from his contemporaries.

Clemenceau is a very early riser, is never abed after five a. m.; often is up in summer time to watch the sun rise. His morning prayers are practical prayers for health in the form of calisthenics, followed by a scientifically calculated course of hydropathy.

His breakfast at seven a. m. is his chief meal, and he sometimes makes six eggs disappear at this meal, followed by a little cold meat. His only drink at any meal is water.

At eight a. m. his automobile takes him to his office in the ministry of the interior. He enters his office like a blast of wind, his silk hat stuck on the bows of the crowd in the ante-chambers and plunges into his sanctum. There he hurries, overcoat and hat on the first piece of furniture, or on the floor if that comes handiest. Then the minister seats himself at his desk bell after bell is set ringing, and the whole force is hastening hither and thither to carry out his peremptory orders.

After luncheon he shuts himself up in his library. The whole afternoon, after an hour and a half in the Hellenic bath, is given up to his duties as prime minister.

It is rarely that he is not back again at night in the ministry to work with one or two exhausted secretaries in the empty, quiet building. Frequently one o'clock strikes before he is whirling home again to sleep the three or four hours which suffices to keep him at the top of his energy.

PASTOR STARTLES LONDON

Rev. Reginald J. Campbell is again the most-talked-of cleric in London. His denial of the "virgin birth," miracles, inspiration and other time-honored beliefs, fell like a bombshell among English churchmen.

At the age of 36 he took the pulpit of the City Temple, occupied for 20 years by the famous Dr. Joseph Parker, and by his brilliant and eloquent address, took his predecessor's place at a single bound. His opposition to the established church and advocacy of passive resistance to the education bill have brought him frequently into prominence.

Dr. Campbell's latest bid for fame is his "new theology," which has made London gasp. He has been roundly denounced as a heretic and atheist. He is said to have stripped religion of all romance, poetry and sentiment in order to get down to "brass tacks." His "compromise" with science, it is said, looks like complete surrender.

No protest has yet been made by Rev. Mr. Campbell's congregation. It is said, however, that he has gradually and logically led up to his present position during the three years that he has been pastor of the temple, and it is therefore predicted that there will be no serious disagreement.

Dr. Campbell's personal charm is said to be almost magical. In the pulpit he seems to fairly fascinate his audience. Whittish gray hair surmounts a handsome, mobile face. Wrinkles that melt into a gentle smile mark his countenance.

But the reigning look is peace. Sweetness in the winsome mouth, in the glowing, dark eyes, in the soft facial contours, in the shy, pensive gestures, in the caressing melodious voice. Not a fighter, but a persuader, a wizard who wields the irresistible Celtic glamor, that affable, romantic, bewitching spell. Yet there is iron under the velvet times harden into inflexible closure. His gentleness comes

BRYAN, TEXAS, MARCH 10, 1907.

It would astonish many of us sometimes if we could know what our neighbors think of us. Every man has some kind of a standing in the community where he lives, and he is sized up a great deal closer than he has any idea of. You may set it down as a fact that there isn't a twelve year old boy in the neighborhood who hasn't his opinion of you, and he wouldn't be slow about expressing it either, if a stranger should ask him for it. Every man is always making character, whether he is doing anything else or not.—Caldwell News-Chronicle.

FOSTER'S WEATHER BULLETIN.

(Copyrighted 1907, by W. T. Foster.)

Washington, D. C., March 9.—Last bulletin forecasts of disturbance to cross continent 9 to 13, warm wave 8 to 12, cool wave 11 to 15. Next disturbance will reach Pacific coast about 13, cross west of Rockies country by close of 14, great central valleys 15 to 17, eastern states 18. Warm wave will cross west of Rockies about 13, great central valleys 15, eastern states 17. Cool wave will cross west of Rockies about 16, great central valleys 18, eastern states 20.

This will be the most severe disturbance of the month. It will follow a period of unusually low temperatures, will inaugurate a week of high temperatures and severe if not dangerous storms, and following it the trend of temperatures will be downward to end of month.

Not much rainfall immediately preceding this disturbance but following it rainfall will increase to close of March. Last half of March will not bring good crop weather; too cold and wet. Look out for severe storms about March 14 and 15.

Immediately following March 9 will come a long cool wet spell not good for crops south of latitude 40. Better not plant corn in southern latitudes till later as the cold wet weather last part of March will not be favorable.

When to expect the great storms can be known in a large percentage of cases as they are unmistakably controlled by relative positions of sun, moon, earth and other major planets. Mark my predictions that the most severe storms and most radical weather of 1907 will occur not far from June 12 and 26, July 10 and 24, August 7 and 21. The equinoctial storms will occur not far from March 15 and September 19. It is not so certain as to where these storms will be most severe.

The Daily Reduction Co., at Heddy, British Columbia, February 19, 1907, through its manager F. A. Ross wrote me a highly commendatory letter from which I quote the following: "We think it right that you know how valuable your weather forecasts have been to us. They have saved us several thousand dollars that, otherwise, would have been lost. On receipt of your advice we shut down our works and laid in a supply of fuel, feed and provisions such as has not been needed in this valley for 15 years. It is well that we did so as we could not have operated at any time during past weeks and the suddenness with which the cold came upon us would have left us no time to prepare if we had delayed a week. So long a time has elapsed since the winters were anything but mild in this valley that farmers and merchants failed to provide and in consequence the $35,000 in general supplies of hay, oats and flour which we rushed in ahead of the freezing up have been largely drawn on since transportation closed. We appreciate your remarkable information and wish you everlasting success."
